MEDIA ADVISORY

Minister Trevor A Manuel, MP will be addressing the Ditchley Foundation at Ditchley Park in England on Friday, 7 July 2006.

His paper titled 'balancing society and market: public policy and growth for Africa' pays particular focus on the current architecture of the state and market in Africa, international finance and the international financial system.

The conference will be attended by ambassadors and high commissioners, current and former UK Ministers, members of Houses of Parliament, academics and business.

The Ditchley Foundation hosts conferences designed to address international policy issues and brings together experts from different professions to engage on challenges that need urgent solutions.
