AUTOMOTIVE INDUSTRY DEVELOPMENT CENTRE

ATTENTION ALL AUTOMOTIVE/MANUFACTURING/ASSEMBLY ENTREPRENEURS

BEE ENTREPRENEUR: INCUBATOR PROGRAMME

A Gauteng Provincial Government initiative being implemented by the Automotive Industry Development Centre (AIDC), a subsidiary company of Blue IQ (which is a wholly-owned agency of the Department of Economic Development), in partnership with a Pretoria-based Original Equipment Manufacturer (OEM), has created an opportunity for BEE Entrepreneurs in the automotive/manufacturing/assembly industry to be part of an Incubation Centre Programme that would serve to implement transformation in the automotive industry.

By definition, a business incubator is an entity organised to deliver support to businesses during the start-up phase. A typical scenario would be for a start-up business to get established in no more than 3–5 years, with training, coaching and mentoring from the incubator, and to then move out or graduate to make room for another start-up business. In this way, the start-up company is assisted with overcoming the barriers to entry and would be able to focus on graduating out of the incubator and expanding to become a standalone, self-sustainable entity.

The concept is the first of its kind in the automotive-sector and involves core empowerment of BEE individuals to become owners of their own businesses. To maximise the impact of the newly formed BEE companies, each of them will be partnered, either via a Licence Agreement or Joint Venture Agreement, to a current multinational supplier.

The qualifying criteria are as follows:

- BEE candidates only.
- Entrepreneurial flair and self-motivation.
- People skills.
- Ethics, health and safety consciousness.
- Operation in the manufacturing or assembly field.
- An understanding of managing their business.
- Computer literacy.
- Willingness to partner with an existing multinational or manage own business under a licence agreement.
- A healthy credit record.
- A tertiary and/or technical qualification, or in the process of obtaining such qualification.

If you satisfy the above criteria and see yourself as having the drive, motivation and discipline of a budding entrepreneur, send a detailed CV demonstrating how you meet the criteria and a letter of motivation (approximately one A4 page) starting why you are the correct person for the position, marked for attention:

The Incubator: E-mail: incubator@aidc.co.za or via post: Private Bag X36, Rosslyn, 0200, or Fax: (012) 564-5301.

Closing date: 30 September 2010.
