RE-ADVERTISEMENT OF QUOTATION

SUPPLY: N95 mask particulate filter respirator

Purpose:

Medical device covering the mouth, nose and chin providing a barrier to minimise the direct transmission of airborne and blood borne infective agents between staff and patient and visa versa.

Construction and design:

All materials used in the composition of a mask shall be free from latex and glass four layer respirator ultrasonically bonded to a depth of 8 mm. It shall be made in two sections, each consisting of four layers of fabric.

Respirator must not to be glued or stiched this causes skin irritations.

The two securing bands to be latex free. The elastic shall be a synthetic elastomeric material of nominal width 5 mm. The length shall be such that the elastic fits comfortably around the head of the wearer.

A fully encased aluminium (or similar) nosepiece or clamp of the nominal width of 3 mm. This flexible strip needs to conform across bridge of nose and thereby eliminate leaks and to prevent airborne contaminants to penetrate the respiratory area.

The reinforcing strip shall be a strip of a synthetic spun bonded material.

The foam strip shall be a polyurethane foam strip of width 25 mm and nominal thickness 1 mm.

The respirator shall be duck-bill shaped as per the diagram. This provides a secure fit around the mouth and nose preventing blow-by at all sides of the mask.

Material to be made from non-woven material which shall be latex and glass free inner layer should have undergone a "wet-lay" process to pin fibres down (this prevents allergies and irritations).

There may be a fluid resistance layer incorporated into the mask that needs to be resistant to blood and fluid splashes.

Minimum efficacy:

Bacterial filtration (BFE) to be > 95% @ 3.2. microns

Particle filtration (PFE) to be > 95% @ 0.1 micron
