Selected expenditure trends for the first half of the 2006/07 financial year

The year-on-year decrease in total expenditure relates to lower budgeted allocations for the Independent Electoral Commission; the higher base expenditure in the previous year was due to the 2005 local government elections. Payments for equipment and software reflect comparatively slower expenditure on IT projects, including the suspension of funds for the Hanis (Home Affairs National Identification System) smart card – to be released for use on other capital projects once the department presents agreed business plans. Lower expenditure on buildings and other fixed structures are due to delays in payments caused by the assessment process and verification of work done.
