NW1508E

REPLY:

- (1) The National Treasury will conduct the chief financial officers (CFOs) educational qualification survey during the second quarter of the 2015/2016 financial year in all national departments.
- (2) Since the last educational qualification survey, it is known that CFOs of certain national departments have resigned. It is also highly probable those currently in their positions have improved their qualifications since the last survey. The current status regarding the qualifications of CFOs of national departments will become clearer after the relevant information is gleaned from the forthcoming survey.
